

Local residents killed in avalanche

Two residents of Drayton Valley and two from nearby Berrymoor were killed during the Easter long weekend in an avalanche near Valemount, B.C.

The four were part of an 11-member snowmobile group who were travelling along a popular route in a recreation area known as Chelonia in the mountains of eastern B.C.

"Buried alive"

The avalanche, which happened about 11:30 a.m. Saturday, claimed the lives of 24-year-old Gary Bowen and 21-year-old Justin Colby of Drayton Valley and 21-year-old Rocky Martin and 25-year-old Joann Martin of Berrymoor.

Bowen and Rocky Martin were found about 7 p.m. Saturday while it was just before noon Sunday when Colby and Joann Martin were found in about 10 metres of snow. Four snowmobilers were also recovered.

Snowmobilers who escaped managed to rescue Jody Martin of Berrymoor who was partially buried. Rocky Martin's wife Janene, and Blain Hook of Calgary were found later buried alive. Martin was taken to hospital in McBride. Hook stayed at the scene and was the first to locate Janene Martin.

Others in the group included Bud and Donnie Martin, Mark Smith and Perry Hook, all of Drayton Valley.

A rescue worker finds a snowmobile 10 metres under the snow.

The bodies were taken to McBride and were scheduled to be moved to Prince George Tuesday where an inquiry will be held. No date had been set at press time for the funerals.

About 25 rescue personnel, aided with metal detectors and dogs, were involved in the search. Civilians from the town of Valemount and helicopters from area heli-ship companies also assisted.

According to a family member, the snowmobilers had been going to Valemount for the past three or four years.

Three hospitalized

Heading for B.C.

Three residents of Berrymoor were hospitalized following a single vehicle accident west of Jasper Sunday. Gilbert and Shirley Martin were informed late Saturday that their three sons Rocky, Bud and Jody were among those involved in the avalanche at Valemount. Accompanied by Gilbert's brother Donald, the three left home early Sunday morning for Valemount.

About 50 kilometres west of Jasper their van left the highway and into the Fraser River at the bottom of a 20-metre gorge.

All three were taken to hospital in Jasper and were released Monday morning. Their van was totalled.

Kinsmen may get involved

The Drayton Valley Kinsmen are looking at providing the supervision at the next FMTS grad dance. Greg Wademan, who is looking into the matter for the Kinsmen, says he will be meeting with the grad class shortly.

Allan Day, principal at Frank Maddock High says the Kinsmen are being asked to handle the supervision and check for liquor at the door and around the dance hall. Day said the students and teachers would arrange the bell and the band.

Easter Sunday

Two kids hurt in local accident

The accident happened at about 8 p.m. near the intersection of 20th Avenue and 48th Street.

Chamber says no

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce have turned down a request to run the parade during the annual Evergreen rodeo to June.

The chamber directors took the action as they didn't feel they had the manpower. The parade has been organized by the Lions Club in past years.

Clean-up planned

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce plan to get involved in the annual clean-up next month.

President Marty Prynne and director Les Jones want to look into the possibility of an industrial clean-up. Calvin Rensfield, the town's recreation director, is looking into some clean-up promotions during the week of May 5-11. Chris Kelly, chairman of the recreation board and vice-principal at Elementary B has offered to coordinate a clean-up around the schools.

with impaired driving and refusing to provide a breath sample.

Cpl. Chris Lee, of the Drayton Valley RCMP, said a 1984 Chev truck was west bound on 50th Avenue when it crossed the road and collided with three parked vehicles.

The Chev truck ended up on the front lawn of Francis McLaughlin's house along with McLaughlin's truck. McLaughlin said he "heard a bang" as they were sitting down to have Easter dinner.

Eight-year-old Christopher and six-year-old Clayton Gaubier were passengers in the vehicle and received minor injuries, according to Cpl. Lee.

Cpl. Lee said their investigation is continuing.

Firemen examine the trucks involved in the collision as Francis McLaughlin (on far left) looks on.

Arena users looking at $75,000 deficit

The Town of Drayton Valley is looking at a $75,000 deficit at the Centennial Civic Arena.

The big question here is, who's going to pick up the tab? Will it be the users or the taxpayers?

The $75,000 deficit was mentioned at the March 12 recreation board meeting. A week before that, town council passed the new 1986 user fees without making any major adjustments that would cover the deficit.

Jack Hutchinson, a member of the recreation board, has expressed his concern. He's afraid the deficit will be passed on to the users, namely minor hockey. And, he's not sure they can afford any major increase.

When the Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association meet April 7th, it might be a

Despite economy

Sunwest flying

Sunwest Airlines are to be commended for going ahead with their scheduled air service linking Drayton Valley with Edmonton, Calgary and Rocky Mountain House.

Geared to service the oil patch, it would've been very easy for the Calgary-based firm to delay the service in light of the uncertainty in the industry.

But instead, they're off and flying. Sure, they are concerned with the price of oil and the effects it's having on places like Drayton Valley. But nobody told them, when they applied for a licence, that it would be easy.

Whatever concerns they have, would be easy to accept if the residents of Drayton Valley and area make good use of the service.

Sunwest Air have provided the service. The rest is up to the people to make it work.

good idea to talk about the possibilities of higher fees.

In fact, any group using the arena should be anticipating higher rental rates.

Getting the taxpayer to foot the bill is a hard sell when you consider only 11 per cent of Drayton Valley's population uses the facility.

Starting next week, The Western Review will be circulated on Tuesdays.

This change will see our readers get the paper one day earlier and at the same time allows our advertisers an extra day's exposure.

One of the biggest changes will be our advertising deadlines. All ads must be in by noon Friday.

If you have any questions about these advertising changes, please call Kelly Stone, Doris Hendrix or Linda McGinn in our sales department.

Editor's Notes

For the last six weeks we have been running a full page feature on one of our staff members. This will continue until all our staff have been introduced. We hope you have enjoyed meeting the people who are responsible for getting the paper out every week.

We wish to apologize to our many readers in the Buck Creek, Alder Flats, Buck Lake, Breton and Winfield areas who didn't get their March 19 paper on time.

It seems the papers got mixed up at the Canada Post sorting plant in Red Deer. Thanks to Lefroy Robinson, manager of the Drayton Valley post office, who assisted us in tracking down the papers.

Door-to-door milk delivery may not be too far away for Drayton Valley residents.

Palm Dairies confirm one of their franchise drivers has been looking into the matter. They are just waiting for the results of a recent house-to-house survey.

Local station

Greiner won't switch from Gulf to Petro Canada

By Lorne Christensen
Doris Greiner is not making the switch.

The former owner of Pembina Car Centre, the local Gulf dealer, has sold her lease back to Gulf Canada rather than switch to Petro Canada.

"My personal feeling is we will not go to Petro Canada," Greiner said.

Greiner gave up her lease Monday after closing the door for the final time last Thursday.

"Overall, we want to thank the public for their support in the past," Greiner said. "I couldn't have done it without them."

The switch over to Petro Canada comes after the government-owned company bought out Gulf Canada last year.

Greiner says they have "no idea" what will happen to the service station located on 59th Street. She added they have not been contacted by any new lease but expects "someone to be there immediately" and not let the station stay closed.

"We haven't heard yet," Greiner explained.

But when the new owners arrive Greiner says it won't be easy for them.

"There are very strong feelings, not good feelings but negative," Greiner points out.

"Here in the oilfield there are strong feelings. I don't know what will happen," she added.

A long-time customer of the Gulf station, who did not want to be identified, said their oilfield company probably won't buy gas from the new Petro Canada station.

"They would have been a lot better off if they had left

Jim Greiner locks up for the final time last Thursday, the station will be opened up later by Petro Canada.

Gulf's name on it," he added.

But Greiner thinks the changes over will eventually work out for Petro Canada. "It's similar to the change over when Gulf bought out British American 30 years ago."

"It took a long time to really get sales back, but Gulf came in good and strong," she explained. "Overall, Petro Canada will probably be accepted," she added.

"I hope for the new lease it will go good," she added.

One of the first things the new owners will have to do is hire new staff.

The six employees that worked at the station before are looking for new jobs.

Jim and Jerry Greiner, sons of the owner, are two of the employees now without jobs.

"It's been a family-type thing," Jim says, reflecting on the past operation of the service station and garage. The Greiners have owned the station for the last three years.

But Doris Greiner does

see some good in the switch to Petro Canada.

She says the red and white colors of the company are "sharp looking and overall eye-catching."

"It's better colors than the kinky orange, that's one thing going for them," she adds.

Invitation to join

Crime Watch honors two

Two people have been awarded plaques for their work with the local Rural Crime Watch Association.

Cot. Tim Vatamanick, of the Drayton Valley RCMP, and Ivan Vowk were recognized at the association's regular meeting in March.

Crime Watch president Ron Stala made the presentations.

The local branch of the association has been in existence for the last eight years, according to Stala and they have about 150 members.

"Our objective is to have every farmer and rancher a member," he added.

The local branch covers the same area as the Drayton Valley RCMP jurisdiction.

"We invite people to participate," he explained.

To join the association a person must pay a $10 membership fee which lasts a "lifetime".

Stala said. To be eligible a person must live in a rural area within the jurisdiction. Stala said potential members are also screened by the RCMP.

The group meets four times a year, Stala said.

The Drayton Valley association is also bidding for the 1988 provincial Rural Crime Watch Conference. The one-day workshop would bring in more than 200 people from across the province.

"We're presenting the bid in April of 1987," Stala explained.

He added some of their other projects include the Halloween poster contest, booth at the Trade Fair and their annual members' social

Lindale principal praises parents' efforts

Dear Editor,

At a recent school dance at Lindale school, we had the support of 12 parents.

These parents came to the school before the event, and, with me, discussed the chaperoning to be done. They stayed all through the dance and afterwards assisted in the usual clean-up activities.

The students had a grand time! Everyone got out onto the floor with a "bogie" dance called by the president of the Home and School Association, Cheryl Hall, and the Bird Dance pro-interest than the "old favorites."

I would like to take this space to publicly thank all the parents who took time to come in to the school and help their young people enjoy a good time. We could not have as community-minded a school without their constant support and interest. So, from all our students and staff to our very special parents - thank you!

Reader pleased with school coverage

Dear Editor,

Thanks for your unbiased printing of the sports news in Drayton Valley and area. You people are doing a fine job of making our town a place to be reckoned with in southern Alberta.

From the primary schools to Frank Maddock, St. Anthony's and the elementary schools, and the surrounding schools, your cameramen are always on the job to take interesting pictures of all the graphic events in Drayton Valley.

Now, a plug for the lodge. We have one of the best staff in northern Alberta.

John Ayott, our maintenance man. Mary, there's no place like home, directing our crafts and all. And so home like our own the others who help with planning. I must not forget our matron, Ina Hawley.

School meeting reminder

Dear Editor,

Doesn't it seem odd that the staff and parents of the high school have to communicate through the newspaper?

Wouldn't communication and problem solving be a lot easier and more effective if a high school parent association was formed?

I would like to remind readers that a Parkland County Board of Education meeting will be held in Drayton Valley on Tuesday, April 8 at 10 a.m. at the county building. This meeting is open to the public.

During 1982 the two school board trustees from the county in this area earned $9,933 and $7,232 and the two trustees earned $12,678 and $10,679 for their school work.

Sincerely,
Marli McKinley

Overdue bouquet To Eldorado teachers

Dear Editor,

A long overdue bouquet to the teachers at the Eldorado school.

I have seen other schools at bus time, play time and class time, and I am sure the children here get more care and attention than other schools.

It is good to see the children treated as individuals, not as so many bodies in a class.

Thank you teachers for caring.

Drayton Valley makes request

County of Parkland and Leduc are asked for funds

By Frank Ryan

The Town of Drayton Valley has asked the County of Leduc for funds to assist with the construction of a new arena and multi-purpose civic administration facility.

The county has been asked to submit a request to the minister of Recreation and Parks to allocate all their 1986 CRC funds to the town for their arena and multi-purpose complex. In a letter from Mayor Bob Mayhew, the County of Leduc was informed that the minister of Parks and Recreation had been requested to allocate all of the town's future entitlements of CRC funding in 1986 to facilitate the construction.

Councillor Bolton moved the county advise the Town of Drayton Valley that they are the County of Parkland and '86 community recreation and cultural grant allocations for future years shall be considered prior to each budget year.

The town, who has stated they are looking at a new arena and plans to renovate the existing arena to handle the town's office, library, fire hall and recreation hall, is also talking with the County of Parkland about the proposals.

Councillor Tom McGee hinted at the last recreation board meeting that the town was hoping to have their CRC grant money in order to build the arena and renovate the existing arena.

Cynthia Johnson, who works with the Alberta Recreation and Parks department, says, "A lot of communities are hankering the CRC money. It's only way to get a major facility".

The Town of Drayton Valley is expected to get approximately $100,000 (based on $20 per capita) from the grant program this year.

Johnson says the actual spending of the CRC is up to the municipality, as long as the split for cultural is met. She also added that if the County of Parkland had some different plans that it could affect the arena proposals.

Meanwhile, the Drayton Valley Community Centre steering committee has been talking to architects about a facility to house two ice surfaces, an eight-sheet curling rink, room for the Pembina Education Consortium and several other rooms to meet community needs.

The Drayton Valley Curling Club met last night (Tuesday) to discuss their future. President Alex Sillf has expressed concern over the future of that facility.

Parkland Honor Band

Eight Drayton Valley students involved

For eight Drayton Valley students, playing in a band is an honor.

The students, all from Frank Maddock High School but one, are members of the County of Parkland Honor Band. The 66-member band has students from seven county schools with most of the members from the three high schools, according to local band director Blair Proctor.

Proctor said the band is "the first ever" in the county. "I would like to see them play more times together," Proctor said.

The band performed for the first and only time at the music festival held in Drayton Valley recently. Proctor said he hopes the project will continue.

"It's good for them to meet kids from around the county and it's also good for them to do something together with other kids," Proctor explained.

The idea for the band was hatched last November when band directors from across the county met to plan the music festival.

Students are allowed to participate in the band if they show "dedication" and "good attitude," according to Proctor. He added the participants will be determined

"on a yearly basis."

"Not everybody gets the opportunity. It's a special thing."

From the Drayton Valley participants one is from F.W. Pickup Junior High School while the rest are from the high school's band program. Other county schools involved include Spruce Grove Composite High School, Memorial Composite from Stony Plain, Stony Plain Junior High, Wood Haven Junior High from Spruce Grove and Granville.

The band, consisting of students from Grades 9 through 12, is directed by Frank Dunnegan. Dunnegan is a music consultant for Alberta Education and is "well-known to Edmonton music circles," according to Proctor.

Their first performance came during the county's music festival and "put a lot of pressure on the kids," Proctor said.

"It gave them a chance to learn difficult music," he added.

"They came away with flying colors."

The band only practiced together twice before the performance because of the limited time, Proctor said.

"I'd like to see a public performance for the honor band," he added.

Barrhead won the first game 7-6 in double overtime and then beat Rimby 5-1 to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Rimby's only win came in Barrhead by a 2-2 count in the third game before Bar-head came back in game four with a 7-6 win.

Felschaker wins

Huslage gets horse title

Alysa Huslage and her black gelding Mrs Sona Deck scored high in youth competition at Quarterama in Toronto recently.

Huslage and her registered Quarter horse qualified to represent Alberta in Toronto, along with six other top youth of the province in the Quarter horse world. The seven top Alberta youth made up the team to compete against the other provinces.

Quarterama is an annual show held at the C & B Stadium in Toronto, the largest show in Canada. Exhibitors come from all across Canada and eastern U.S.A.

Youth hunter under saddle, hunt seat equitation, and western horsemanship were the classes Huslage competed in. Sonny and Alysa came home with the championship in hunt seat equitation and runner-up in horsemanship. Both these classes are judged on the rider's ability to ride and handle a horse.

Alysa's interest in horses started at a very early age with a little pony called Tony. Alysa has maintained her interest, spending many years in the 4-H program, finally purchasing a two-year-old Quarter horse, Sonny.

Under the guidance of Kathy Herke and the support of parents Richard and Fern Huslage of Rocky Rapids, she has proved she is one of the top youth in Canada.

Another youth in the area, missing out by a narrow margin from making the team, is Tara Felschaker and her bay gelding, Mrs Sona Deck. Tara brought home the highly regarded Sportsman of the Year award. The trophy is sponsored by Slysark Farms of Oak, California. Tara's personality, love for her horse, and competitive spirit gave the judges reasons for their choice.

Kathy Herke, Alysa and Tara will spend a very busy summer, showing at Quarter horse shows across the country. The first show is at the Northlands Agricon March 28 and 29.

The girls welcome aboard a new youth exhibitor, Monica Gruber of Drayton Valley. Gruber will be hitting the show circuit for the 30th time.

Doesn't like county idea

Self government may be the way to go, but West Yellowhead M.L.A. Dr. Ian Reid does not think a county of Drayton Valley is going to happen in the foreseeable future.

Reid sought to allay fears voiced at the February meeting of the Edson and District Chamber of Commerce that Improvement District 14 would stand to lose much of its assessment if a county of Drayton Valley were to be formed.

The idea of creating a county of Drayton Valley was contained in a municipally funded discussion paper released late last year. The solicitor general played down any chances that the proposed county would come to pass. Should it become viable in the distant future, he declared it would not happen at the expense of the Improvement District and the towns and villages it encompassed.

"I'm in favor of local government if it's self supporting and possible," said Reid. But then he added "I can't ever see the day when the west end of ID 14 will ever have the population base to justify self government." While the possibility of the east end of ID eventually attaining autonomy was raised by the M.L.A., he still expressed doubt as to whether it too would have a sufficient tax base.

Asked about the ID's eventual goal of becoming a self-governing municipality, the solicitor general warned the ID may have to accept some revision of its present boundaries if it were to realize self government. Asked Reid "How can they possibly have the tax base to look after the forests?"

Edson Mayor Ron Loford, who had arrived late, injected some humor into the proceedings. He told Loford jokingly, "Just annex the whole area from here to Evansburg, give it to the town, and we'll look after it."

$9,000 cost

County installs free phone line

The County of Parkland board of education and municipal council have agreed to share the cost of providing a toll-free telephone line to the county office.

School superintendent Mary Tashchuk says some county residents presently have to pay long distance charges to communicate their problems and concerns to administration while other residents do not.

The long distance charges are a minor irritant which can add up to a major aggravation, Tashchuk added.

The toll-free line will cost the county approximately $9,000 per year.

Clowning around

Two-year-old Shawn Kirkland can't quite believe he is talking to a clown in person. Shawn was among the many youngsters that enjoyed a clown show put on in the town store last week. The clowns kept the kids singing and dancing during the half hour show.

Premier attended

Highway meeting

The recent meeting in Edmonton between Highway 16 town officials and Premier Don Getty may not have grabbed any commitments to speed up the twinning schedule, but at least the project won't fall any further behind.

Mayors and representatives from Stony Plain, Edson, Hinton, Jasper and other communities, along with the highway met to discuss their concerns with the premier and possibly get a promise to speed up the doubling of what is now known as Death Highway.

He didn't promise anything but I think the atmosphere of the meeting was good," Stony Plain Coun. Day Bell said.

He said the collection of town representatives who want to see Highway 16 twinned from Edsonville to Jasper managed to get some kind of commitment to at least keep on the same schedule. That calls for the project to be completed by 1991. Our support was not to downsize it to keep it in line with 1991, Bell said.

Bell said some communities had offered to delay their portions of the twinning in favor of other parts that were more dangerous.

"Banner year" recorded in energy industry in 1985

By Lorne Christensen

Despite the gloomy outlook in 1984 the energy industry had a record year last year, according to statistics released by the ERCB.

In their annual report the Energy Resources Conservation Board said revenue from the Alberta resources totalled $25.4 billion, up $400 million from 1984. In 1984 the ERCB issued licences for 8,763 wells surpassing the previous high.

"It was a banner year," said Marvin Abugov, communications assistant for the ERCB. "It's too bad it isn't coming, he added.

Abugov said they "can't even guess how long slumps in the industry will last, but he added it "could turn around tomorrow."

In their annual report the ERCB makes note of the falling oil prices "with no clearly defined bottom price in sight." The report adds "what will happen in prices is quite uncertain and what impacts these events will have on development in Alberta is not clear." But the report also outlines the success of the energy industry in 1984 from production to safety.

In a section entitled "Life After Lodgpole" the board makes reference to the "significant improvements made in drilling sour gas wells. The report goes on to say many of the 39 recommendations made by the ERCB's Lodgpole inquiry panel have already been implemented.

An uncontrolled flow of hydrogen sulphide, of the magnitude of the 1982 Lodgpole incident, would not be permitted today," the report adds.

Under the standards now enforced by the ERCB a gas leak similar to the Lodgpole incident would be ignited.

But safety is just one of the objectives outlined in the annual report. Abugov said they are also putting emphasis on the conservation aspects of the ERCB. "Many have a wrong perception of what conservation means to the ERCB," he added.

According to the report, they are trying to get "optimum" recovery and not waste the energy in addition, the ERCB is "ensuring practical resources are developed in a safe manner in the public interest."

The report also points out the "importance of public awareness and 'promoting conservation' between the oil companies and the people."

"It can be done," Abugov explains.

Kindergarten teachers learn about kit

By LeOpal Larsson

Congratulations to Tom and Lynette Maruborski on the birth of a baby girl in the Drayton Valley hospital March 15. She weighed six pounds six ounces and is named Shanya Lynn. Proud grandparents are George and Mary Mackiborski and Seward and LeOpal Larsson. Great grandparents are Josephine Vidajevic of Alder Flats and Russ and Emma Powers of Westbank, B.C. She is a sister for Bradley, Lorna, Markus, Judy Becker, Vera Brann and Delores Leach curled in the Rimby ladies' hospital the weekend of March 16. They won travel iron and thermos jug.

Wes and Ann Powers of Lacombe were recent guests of his sister LeOpal and Sig Larsson.

Kindergarten teacher Denise Bellemont, Sherry Henderson and Sylvia Stuart attended a two-day seminar at the Ponoka Oasis Hotel conference room to learn about the CARE kit.

This is a program that enables children to become aware of their rights and responsibilities and helps them to develop into strong, positive adults.

The male speaker was Marie Rahatch from the Edmonton Sexual Assault Centre. The seminar was sponsored by the Wetaskie Party Education District Society.

The RCMP and Social Services also offered presenters. There was a CARE kit display at the Lions Club meeting at the Alder Flats Hall on March 24.

The kindergarten held its first Father's Night on March 13 at the ECS school. All but three fathers, who were working, were able to attend. The fathers joined the children in painting, making playdough, dinosaurs, building puzzles, listening to stories and playing games.

They concluded the evening with refreshments and dinosaur-shaped cookies.

The kindergarten also held their chicken supper fund raiser on March 19 with an exceptional attendance. The playground dinosaurs were dismantled.

Todd Krysta is home after spending several days in the Drayton Valley Health Care Complex.

Henry Larsson from Edmonton was a recent visitor at his brother Sig and LeOpal Larsson.

Popular route

Highway 22 via Drayton Valley is a popular route for large trucks hauling loads like this out of Edmonton and Leduc for some north. This 20-ton tank that measured 140 feet long and 17 feet in diameter, was bound for a Chevron plant near Fox Creek. It took five days to make the trip from Edmonton.

Summer water supply expected to be average

Summer water supply in the major rivers of southern and central Alberta is expected to range from slightly below average to slightly above average this year, according to Alberta Environment's River Forecast Centre.

Recent snow surveys

The streamflow volume forecasts for the May to September 1986 period and actual volumes for the 1985 season for the primary locations are: Milk River at Milk River 80% (7% 1985); Oldman River near Lebberding 105% (69% 1985); Bow River at Calgary 105% (67% 1985); Red Deer 120% (12% 1985); and North Saskatchewan River at Edmonton 95% (67% 1985).

The water supply forecasts are based on rain fall and snowfall amounts since September 1985, and on recent snow surveys. The forecasts indicate the volume expected, actual flow conditions will vary throughout the season depending on weather conditions and flow regulation operations.

through dams and diversions. The River Forecast Centre will revise the forecasts monthly as the season develops.

Water storage levels in the major irrigation and hydroelectric power reservoirs of southern and central Alberta were normal as of March 1.

MEET THE STAFF

Marion at her desk sorting through the circulation cards.

Receptionist also handles circulation

Marion Unterschultz keeps the paper's circulation going.

The six month employee of The Western Review is in charge of the circulation along with other duties at the paper. Marion also answers the phone, takes classifieds and works as a receptionist at The Western Review.

Unterschultz works Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays and says she "likes meeting people."

But most of her job centers around circulation.

"As far as circulation, I make sure the paper is mailed out to people and that subscriptions are renewed," Marion explains.

She adds any problems with circulation can be directed to her.

Marion's husband Gary is the vice principal at Frank Maddock High School and they have two sons - Ryan, 11, and Derek 12.

When Marion, who lives near Warburg, isn't busy at the paper she spends time with her family.

"We enjoy doing a lot of things together as a family," she points out. She lists some of her other interests as cross-country skiing, camping, ceramics and playing the piano and organ.

Marion said she decided to go back to work again "once the kids got older" and decided to work in Drayton Valley because of her husband's job here.

The native of Edmonton

once worked as a cytotechnologist. A job she describes as "the study of cells for detection of cancer and spending all day at a microscope."

Getting ready for visitors

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce tourist committee are busy making plans for their visitor information booth. The booth will open on the long weekend in May.

Originally, the chamber's tourist committee had hoped to build a new booth on the site of the proposed Husky track stop, but that has been delayed.

FINANCING ALBERTA BUSINESS

The Alberta Opportunity Company provides financial and consulting assistance to small business enterprises

Wrapped Up In His Work!

Ron Brown had a serious problem: inefficient cardboard boxes, corrugated cartons and labels. In addition, he planned on manufacturing the warehouse equipment required to move and store his product.

Financing was a problem however. So Ron approached the AOC. The AOC saw potential in his idea and supplied the financing Ron needed.

Today Shippers Supply Ltd. of Edmonton employs 31 people and expansion is planned through increasing national sales.

Ron's idea seems to have blown the lid off the packaging industry.

If you have a sound business idea, but you're unable to obtain financing through regular sources, call or visit your nearest AOC office and ask for our brochure Financing Alberta Business.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Reeve and Members of Council of
County of Parkland No. 31:

We have examined the consolidated balance sheet of the County of Parkland No. 31 as at December 31, 1985 and the consolidated statements of operating surplus, equity in fixed assets and capital financing and the statements of revenue and expenditure of the General and the School Funds for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the County as at December 31, 1985 and the results of its operations and the changes in its capital financing for the year then ended in accordance with the disclosed basis of accounting described in Note 1 applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Revenue and Council
 County of Parkland No. 31
 Postal Bag 250
 St. Mary Plain, Alberta
 T0E 2G0

DATE October 15 & 16, 1985
 MUNICIPALITY COUNTY OF PARKLAND NO. 31
 FILE NO. PM5

In accordance with the Department of Municipal Affairs act, an inspection of the books, records and administrative procedures of the County of Parkland No. 31 was conducted by the undersigned on October 15 and 16, 1985.

It is noted that the net liquid cash position of the County is still well below the Municipal Affairs guideline of 25% of the current year's tax base. However, I am confident that council and the administration recognize the problem area and are working toward an early solution.

I was very pleased with the manner in which the business affairs of the County are being administered. The minutes, by-laws and accounting procedures were well maintained and in a current position.

If an annual meeting is not held in 1986, the this inspection report must be published in a newspaper circulating within the municipality.

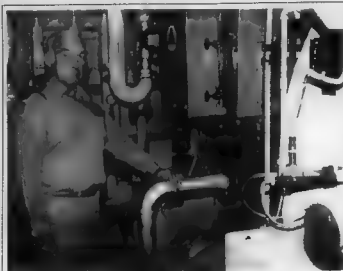

I would appreciate receiving your written acknowledgment of this Report.

Weekend bull sale

The West-Alta Livestock Breeders Association will host their 19th annual bull sale this Saturday at Harkes Arena.

The association held their first sale in the early sixties. Their objective then, just as it is today, is to promote the use of British breeds seed stock by area farmers and ranchers. Representative images traditionally are Polled and Horned Herefords, Red and Black Angus and Shorthorns. As indicated by the name, West-Alta encompasses the area of west central Alberta, which includes Drayton Valley to Thorhild and Leduc. Stony Plain west to Onaway Niton and Edson.

The sale, which has been held on the first Saturday in April in Drayton Valley, has recently gone on the road in an effort to attract better quality livestock and renew interest in the event itself.

Local cattlemen are urged to get out and attend the weekend show and sale.

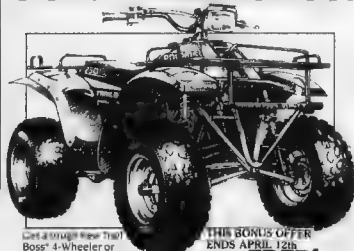

For more information on Saturday's show and sale, phone 359-2148 or 127-5993.

County bus drivers receive increase

The County of Parkland Board of Education has increased remuneration for school bus contract operators by 2.5 per cent.

The increase, approved at the board's March 18 meeting, is retroactive to Jan. 1 of this year.

The bus contractors will also receive an increase of one cent per mile in their supplementary low mileage rate.

The board further agreed to the request by contractors that they be allowed to pre-pay the full amount of their annual bus insurance costs if the costs are presently charged on a monthly basis.

Nick Bernick, president of the Parkland Bus Contract Operators' Association, requested in October 1985, trustees reconsider the remuneration rates paid to his members.

The board of education responded by forming a committee of four trustees and two senior administrators to study the request.

The committee's recommendations were accepted by the board without dissent.

Richard McCullough, head of the county Transportation Department, told trustees the increases for bus contractors hadn't been provided for in his budget.

Director of Business Services Walter Hegger said the increase will come from the portion of the overall budget designated for inflation provisions.

Around the Province

New mall

Construction has started on a new $750,000 mall at Wetaskiwin. Pearce Hills Mall will be located on Highway 2A and 37A Ave. just north of the Wetaskiwin mall. The mall will include an Arby's restaurant, Mac's convenience store, gas bar and other commercial stalls.

Grants allocated

The Town of Whitecourt recreation board has handed out $65,000 in community grants.

The curling club will receive $5,500 to complete their renovations with the rink association getting $6,227 to assist with the development and maintenance of their grounds.

County rejects budget

The County of Trochu has rejected a five per cent increase in the Limber Creek town budget. The increase was to help offset the estimated $20,000 cost of re-roofing the arena.

Ipso drops fourth shift

A scheduling device on Ipsos has left 25 Red Deer men jobless. The situation in the oil patch was the reason given by a company official for dropping the fourth shift at their plant just outside of Red Deer on Highway 2A.

Youth big winners

Youth groups were the big winners when Red Deer city council handed out $50,000 in grant money. The Kiwanis club received $10,000 for upgrading the City Arena with Big Brothers and Sisters getting $31,100 to develop a camp. The city's recreation department will receive $22,900 for administration and expenses.
